Ergonomics News

The Art of Ergonomics

Exclusively developed by Humantech's certified ergonomists and training experts, the ergonomic consulting company is offering full-color posters to reinforce ergonomics education in the office or industrial environment. These posters are creatively designed, colorful and a fun way to remind employees to be safe. Choose from two different poster series- Awareness Posters and Art Posters. Both will motivate your employees to make improvements in health and safety and productivity through practical ergonomics solutions.
